Festival Credit: The St. Gregory the Great festival is by far the largest fundraiser for the Academy. It is held in June and requires numerous volunteers to perform the various responsibilities and activities associated with the festival as well as work the many booths, food stands, etc. on the nights the festival is operating. These volunteers are primarily drawn from the St. Gregory's Parish staff and parishioners, the Academy's staff and teachers and especially from the families of the Academy's students. To further incentivize the families of Academy students to volunteer, a tuition credit is offered in the following amounts for each day/night of service:

1) $75 for each day/night of service up to a maximum of six

2) $50 for each additional day of service more than six, but no more than two additional days

Specific information regarding festival worker requirements, including the types and areas where service is needed, as well as the dates and times services are required, will be communicated in the months and weeks leading up to the Festival.

Credits are applied to tuition by the end of August, reducing monthly payments for the remaining tuition beginning with the September payment. Total credit amount can be applied to TWO monthly payments or credited across the remaining 8 monthly payments.
